The long promised opening of Castroville's new play-ground, Electric Park, was duly observed here on the Fourth. Mr. John Tragger, the proprietor, had arranged everything about the extensive grounds for the comfort and pleasure of the vast throng, and from early morn' until the wee sma' hours of the night, all disported themselves as was their wont.

The large native pecan trees afford ample shade while the river that flows in a half circle around the grounds offers a most inviting place for bathers and lovers of aquatic sports to disport themselves. Mr. Tragger had provided ample bathroom facilities, and many of the guests enjoyed a plunge into the cooling waters of the old Medina.

Refreshments of various kinds, including barbecued beef and goat, coffee and melons of all kinds were sold on the grounds and the picnic dinner was not the least of the pleasures of the occasion. Louis Tschirhart was the chef who presided at the barbecue pit, and to say that is to say that the meat was roasted to an epicure's taste.

A band from San Antonio entertained the crowd with choice selections at intervals, but the radio report of the Dempsey-Gibbons Fight in the afternoon was the feature of chief interest.

Mr. Tragger is to be congratulated on the success of his initial opening, and all predict that Electric Park will become a favorite resort for pleasure-seekers of the future and add greatly to Castroville's already well-established fame as a pleasure resort.

MRS. F. J. ETTER AND SISTER, MISS JOLIE SCHUEHLE, BADLY BURNED WHEN OIL CAN EXPLODES.

Mrs. Fritz J. Etter was badly burned about the chest and arms while starting a fire in her cook stove with kerosene oil Saturday morning at her home, two miles from town. Mrs. Etter used the can in pouring the oil into the stove the flames flew up, causing the can to explode. The oil and fire spread over her and her sister, Miss Jolie Schuehle, who was visiting her at the time, hearing her screams, went to her assistance, and she was also badly burned about her hands and arms while tearing the clothing from her sister's body. Although the burns are very painful, we hope there will be no serious effects.

FIRE DESTROYS LARGE BARN.

Mr. Joe Miller was also burned about the face while trying to save a wagon.

LAW ON THE LAKE.

From a column of personel news about the denizens and visitors of the Medina Lake region, printed in the San Antonio Evening News of July 4th, we reproduce the following:

The honorable Peter Hogg, for many years judge in Castroville, is a frequent visitor at the lake, particularly since the fishing violators have been so vigorously prosecuted by the present warden, George D. Hunter. Usually standing on the banks at one of the various big camps late in the afternoon when the disciples of Isaac Walton are coming in with their string, he is ever on the alert to detect any violation of the law. Reading the stern disapproval so manifest in the flashing eyes of the magistrate, the fisherman who brings in the short length bass feels a bit "short length" himself (that is really worse than paying the fine he knows he will pay) and he wishes he had done the right thing—thrown the little fellow back in the lake where he belongs.

There are two things the culprit will learn when he faces the judge of Castroville, that he is standing before a gentleman of the old school, and before a sportsman whose decisions are based on facts and rendered impartially. This was "The law west of the Pecos" as interpreted by the immortal and beloved Judge Roy Bean, and in our opinion no greater evidence of our respect could be paid to Judge Peter Hogg than in making this simple comparison.

"Strong and Well"

"I WISH you could know how much I am improved since taking the Cardui," writes Mrs. Nannie Brown, of Black Rock, Ark. "You wouldn't know me for the same weak invalid I was before I took it. At my ... I had to keep off my feet or I would fall. I couldn't do my housework, and just got where I'd most as lief be dead as living. Some one told my husband of Cardui. He got it for me and I took three bottles before I stopped—then off and on for the last three years just as a tonic. I saw a decided improvement after my first bottle. I used the three, and was able to do my work with ease, and now I sew for my family and for others. I am feeling fine, and strong and well."

Take Cardui! It may be just the medicine you need.

HONDO HAS THE OIL!

Experienced Oil Men Who Witnessed a Partial Test Roughly Estimate Production at 100 Barrels or Better.

The very latest information from the Ina Oil Company's well, received at 5:00 o'clock Friday afternoon, brings the glad tidings that baling for five hours showed an output of 17 1-7 barrels with the oil standing 126 feet higher in the well than before the baling was begun. Experienced oil men who witnessed the test roughly estimate the daily production 100 barrels or better, which seems an extremely conservative estimate, judging from the partial test made Friday.

Driller Brown still claims the well will come over the top, a claim that seems well founded on the action of the well under the partial test.

WITH THE DRILLERS.

The Ina Oil Company's well on the George Schmidt ranch is still the center of attraction, and is the Mecca of the big oil concerns of the State. Hundreds of visitors are sightseeing there daily and interest and speculation as to the extent of the field is the main topic of conversation. But little active development work has been carried on in the past week for various reasons, but we understand a twenty-four hour continuous test was to be started Friday morning. Storage capacity is lacking. In the absence of a pump we understand oil buckets will be used. Thursday evening oil was standing some 750 feet in the well and steadily rising and Driller Brown confidently predicts it will come over the top. The drill has penetrated fifteen feet into the oil sand and the bottom has not been reached. We are not advised as to why drilling has ceased, but presume it is due to the smallness of the hole—only about three inches at the bottom. Two storage tanks of 500 barrels capacity each have been ordered but are not yet on the ground. A brand new, up-to-date rotary rig has already been loaded and is due to arrive any day. With its arrival, a new and real well will be spudded in. As we have said before the real value of the present well consists mainly in locating the sand. While it will beyond question develop into a good producer, its real value is the knowledge obtained, and its promoters are perfectly satisfied with results. The influx of oil men, the natural sequence of the location of a new oil field, has started leasing afresh, and some fancy prices are being paid for acreage. Medina county has an oil field beyond the question of a doubt, and great development work is looked for in the immediate future.

But the territory south of town is not the only proven field in Medina county. Few even of our home people know that three producing wells are in active operation in the Chicon field and activity in development work is very much in evidence, both on the Chicon and Francisco fields. The first deep test in Medina county is feverishly working to spud in on the Bendele estate and perfect confidence in the outcome is held by the promoter, Mr. Sullivan, an experienced oil man.

Fritz Fuchs, who has secured quite a large acreage in the Chicon field, is busy perfecting his preparations to spud in and everyone is expecting him to use his unbounded energy in that field.

Rumors of the formation of new companies for drilling purposes in various parts of the county are rife, but we are without definite information as to the exact location of any of the new enterprises.

Besides other sources of great wealth, it has now been proven that a great oil field underlies a great portion of Medina county, and a great boom, such as has never before been witnessed in West Texas, is due in the immediate future. Oil rigs will be so common as to excite but little interest, and an era of great prosperity will soon be upon us.

TREE STUMPS AND BOULDERS
FAIL TO STOP OVERLAND '41.

Staunch Car Blazes Trail to New Camp Site in State of Arizona.

After battling with boulders and tree stumps for seven hours, an Overland car piloted by C. E. Pettingal and carrying Ralph Caughland and Arthur Whisenant as passengers, recently reached the top of the Chiricahua Mountains at Douglas Ariz.,
it was learned here last week by officials of the San Antonio Overland Company. The people of Douglas, it was stated, are establishing a summer camp on the top of Chiricahua to be known as Rustler Park and the Overland-Arizona Company took this opportunity to demonstrate the power and dependability of the Overland car, by blazing the trail to the proposed site of the camp.
"The Overland made the trip over country that can best be described as terrific," said I. D. McKee, in commenting on the feat. "In places the grades ran as high as 30 and 35 per cent."

"The maximum elevation is 8500
feet and no automobile had ever made the climb until the Overland ventured on its successful ascent."

"On the trip up the Chiricahua the last four and one-half miles included a stiff climb of approximately 3000 feet."

"While it was no 'joy ride' it proved conclusively that a road for motor traffic can be built to the top of the Southwest's most scenic mountain range for a small cost."

POLA NEGRI TREASURES AN OLD RUSTY HORSESHOE.

Pola Negri confesses to being superstitious, while apologizing for it.
On her arrival in New York last summer she brought in one of her trunks, carefully wrapped in silk, an old rusty horseshoe which she had picked up in front of the Maly Theatre, Warsaw, on the day in which she made her debut upon the stage.
Never in the intervening nine years has she been without it. It caused much amusement among custom officials in New York when they unwrapped
it in passing the actress' baggage.

All of her friends have tried to cure Pola Negri of her superstitions,
but she declares that until Good Luck departs from her, she will carry it. Mlle. Negri will be seen at the Airdome July 20 in the Goldwyn picture, "Mad Love", which is said to offer the Polish beauty as great acting opportunities as did "Passion."

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Conley returned Wednesday from a visit to Mr.
Conley's father, M. D. Conley, at Beaumont, and his sister at Liberty.
They report a pleasant trip, and say that crops are good over most of the country traversed.

Jerry S. Smith and sisters, Misses Alice and Amanda, and Alton Van Fleet left Tuesday morning for a tour of the west, which may carry them as far as San Francisco. The trip will be made by car, and they were anticipating a most enjoyable time.

Miss Jessie Blocker is the guest of her grandfather, Judge Kimberlin,
in Los Angeles, California. Miss Jessie, who had been the guest of her grand-parent at Clarendon for a month or more accompanied him from there to the great Southern California city. She purposes spending a month or more on the western coast before returning to her home here.

J. T. Conway, who claims Brenham as his home, and J. L. Blanchard, who hails from Eagle Lake, are involuntary citizens of Hondo. In fact, they would rather be anywhere else
just now. They are inmates of the Bader bastille, with a charge of Automobile theft set opposite their names.
They made their advent into Hondo Thursday of last week and tried to trade a set of Auto tools to Carter & Bader for gasoline for a Ford roadster in which they had started to tour the west. Mr. Carter, with whom they tried to drive the bargain, not being in a trading humor and being somewhat suspicious of the pair, turned down their proposition,
but immediately tried to get in connection with the Sheriff's department. Meanwhile the would be traders departed before the officers arrived, heading westward. Miss Mable Hollaway took a little ride in the evening and while passing along the road, near the Starnes residence, thought she saw something concealed in the Sunflowers, and on investigation found a Ford car, which afterwards was identified as the one driven by the tourist. Communications with various sheriff's departments brought the information from Del Rio, that two men answering the description of the erstwhile traders had been taken into custody. Sheriff Bader, accompanied by Roy Carter went out Saturday, the men were recognized by Mr. Carter, and brought back to Hondo. On being arraigned before his honor, Judge Lamm, they waived a preliminary hearing, and in default of a $750 bail bond, are now free lodgers at Bader's rooming house. The car proved to be the property of a Lufkin pedagogue who had been lured
from his home by the fame of Medina Lake as a fishing resort. While en route to that place he stopped in San Antonio, stepped into a business house for a few minutes, and when he returned his car was gone. The grand jury will give its attention to the matter at the fall session of the district court.

Geo. Leinweber, one of our upper Hondo farmers, says the cotton crop in his section is the most promising of any in the past twenty years.
A fine rain on July 1st put ample moisture in the ground to assure a cotton crop and a few more weeks of hot sunshine—to keep the boll weevils in check—will mean a big yield of the fleecy staple.

Mrs. E. B. Earnest and children, Madeline and E. B. Jr. of San Antonio, spent Saturday and Sunday
here as the guests of Mrs Earnest's father Mr. August Hornung. They returned to the City Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Joe Breiten and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Anna Neuman, took the passenger for Houston Sunday morning. They were the guests of Mrs.
Neuman's daughter, Mrs. Kate Duffy, in Houston. The two ladies traveled in company of Messrs. H. E. Haas and John Heyen, who attended the Farm Loan Association of Texas this week.

Medina County has fixed dates for the Fair and there will be something doing at Hondo September 6, 7 and 8. Hondo is excited over oil prospects, but her business interests are not allowing that favor to make them forget other moves that count.
Whether Hondo's wells all turn into gushers or prove out dusters, there is need of the Fair, and the solid sense of the community realizes this fact. There ought to be a definite showing on the county's new roads by that time. During the year that has almost intervened since the last Fair many developments worth while have taken place inside the county's limits. There is room for a big and a liberally patronized Fair and the people of San Antonio who count Hondo and her interests their own will be conspicuous by their large attendance.—From the San Antonio Express, July 12, 1923.

OIL IS FOUND 16 MILES WEST OF SOMERSET.

From San Antonio Light, July 8th.
What may prove to be the pool from which the Somerset field is seeping has been discovered sixteen miles almost due west of the southwestern extension of the Atascosa shallow pool but in Medina county on what is known as the Schmidt place and is causing much interest among the scouts of the major companies who are in constant touch with it.

Only one well has been drilled. It was put down for the Ina Oil company, composed of well known San Antonio business men, by Frank A. Brown and wife and at around 1000 feet it is setting a screen in sand and lime and bailing several barrels of 18 gravity oil a day with a small bailer. The well was drilled with a small standard rig and has only a four-inch hole at the bottom but is making a remarkable showing when conditions are considered. It probably is a good commercial well at this stage but expert drillers from the Rio Bravo company (Southern Pacific) are assisting Mr. Brown and the hole is being carried slowly on down, still in the sand and lime, both apparently heavily impregnated with oil. The Ina Company has 4000 acres in leases surrounding the well and several other San Antonians have acreage there. Among the major companies that have bought acreage around the well are the Texas Company, the Gulf Production company, the Empire Gas & Fuel company and others. Their scouts are following developments closely.

Sand is Fine.

The sand is very fine and it is interbed between limerock strata making an ideal oil formation. There is no water in the well, an artesian flow having been drilled through and cased off higher up. There is considerable gas which is increasing steadily. The well is being drilled through a gate valve in case of a blowout which is possible at any minute. This test has been under way for almost one year and has been so quietly carried on that few oil men knew anything about it. When the first showing was encountered under a thick bed of seashells, in gumbo, those in touch with it began leasing acreage rapidly.

Frank A. Brown who made the location and who is in charge of field work for the Ina Company has been a consistent believer in the oil possibilities of that region for some years. Formerly a Medina county rancher, he early became interested in the oil situation when the Somerset field was developed. He located the Ina No. 1 because of a remarkable bend in the Hondo river which for a number of years has been commented upon by geologists as indicating a fault line or some unusual geological formation. The river flows south, turns abruptly and runs north and then turns south again. In this bend Mr. Brown drilled this well and got what coastal oil men familiar with coastal fields, declare is a typical seacoast sand, very fine and very rich. He has several feet of this and in the first layer, then a stratum of limerock which is comparatively soft drilling and then more of the sand, the lower sands are coarser.

Sea Shells in Gumbo.

A cap of seashells and gumbo and shales is just above this sand. How much more of it there is, Mr. Brown does not know because he is less than 1000 feet but is drilling very carefully. Owing to the fact that he is about to run out of hole and has a light Star rig, he is not taking chances as he hopes to bring in at least a small well in the No. 1 to prove his field and then skid his derrick and drill a real one. He topped the present oil sand at 927 feet. This sand is a true oil sand, dark gray in color with a dark brown oil of low gravity and asphaltum base. It is entirely dissimilar to the Somerset oil which however, may come from the pool and undergo refining in progress through the 700 to 900 feet of blue shales from which it is recovered.

Oil In The Hole.

He has never bailed the well dry but has lowered the oil to two or three feet in the hole only to have more than 100 feet of oil in the hole again in a few hours. The conditions at this well are such as to lead oil men who have seen it to predict an extensive field for Medina county with possibility of some much larger wells than anything in the Somerset field. The Schmidt lease is ideally situated for an oil field with ample drilling water in the Hondo and but six miles off the Southern Pacific railroad. Officials of the Ina Oil company decline to give out data on the well other than to say that they are very much encouraged by the present showing, that they hope to develop a valuable commercial oil property and the development with the drilling rig will be prosecuted diligently. If successful they plan to run a field line to the Southern Pacific railroad, put in a loading rack and sell the crude for fuel oil for which it is ideally situated. It is possible, however, that a lighter oil with good gasoline content will be found as they go deeper in which case shipments will be made to San Antonio refineries.

Among those interested in the Ina Oil company are R. J. Boyle, Hill Grover, O. C. Chapin and Frank A. Brown. Judge Carl is reported to have about 2000 acres under lease in the new territory and other San Antonians have smaller tracts. Whether they also will drill is not known.

MRS. F. A. BROWN RUNS DRILLING RIG AND A HOME.

From San Antonio Light, July 8th.
Oil scouts who have visited the Ina Oil Company's No. 1 Schmidt about thirteen miles southeast of Hondo in Medina county have been given the surprise of their lives to find a dainty, educated but very active woman doing the work of a "roughneck" on the derrick platform. The woman in question is Mrs. F. A. Brown who has the unusual distinction of being the first woman and probably the only woman in Texas to work on a drilling crew. She has worked all around the rig too, from handling casing tongs to the derrick. She mounts the 85-foot derrick without the slightest hesitancy although she admits that the first time aloft gave her somewhat of a sinking feeling when she forgot and looked down.

From the life of a rural school marm in the peaceable mountains of New Mexico to first assistant to a well driller, her husband, Frank A. Brown, is somewhat of a change but Mrs. Brown says she likes it. In the year that she has been living in the oil "camp" in Medina county, she has gained 25 pounds and is a picture of health, vitality and femininity. For Mrs. Brown does not believe that a woman has to adopt masculine attire and masculine methods to handle a man's job. She wears dresses, climbs the derrick in dresses too, sometimes a sunbonnet helps to keep away the freckles but more often she works without any kind of hat, her sleeves rolled to her elbows and sometimes with a kitchen apron still in place because drilling an oil well is only a part of her job—she cooks three times a day for the men folks—even bakes delicious cake in a Dutch oven—washes the dishes and keeps the camp tidy.

Looks Like a Winner.

A native of Wisconsin, of sturdy Canadian stock, Mrs. Brown was a school teacher until she married Mr. Brown a Medina county rancher. He decided that Medina county was in the oil belt and set out to demonstrate it. He has drilled several wells there but this well looks like a sure enough winner. He was attracted to the present location by a bend in the Hondo river which has every indication of marking a geological fault line. That his theory is right seems apparent from the fact that at 927 feet he is able to bail several barrels of oil a day when but three feet in the oil bearing sand.

The camp is located on the creek bank so a water line is easily run from the camp site bringing water to the rig boiler as well as to the camp kitchen.

Not every one knows just how hard a roughneck as well as an experienced driller works around the rig but those who do know, know that it takes some vim, vigor and vitality to be able to "stick."

Perhaps there are only a few people who can visualize a woman "roughneck" and those who can picture one, probably imagine a woman clad in a pair of greasy overalls. The imagined roughneck has a masculine air about her and at times they can detect quite a bit of roughness in her voice.

Driller and Housekeeper.

But this is not the case with Mrs. F. A. Brown, driller and "roughneck" on the Ina Oil Company's well in Medina county. In the first place she says she sees no need of discarding her dresses for a greasy pair of overalls for what is the use, she says, when she can get to the top of that derrick in a dress just as fast as the average man roughneck can get up there in trousers. And refined—you would never know that she could be anything else than a dainty school "marm" with dainty white hands. She is exceedingly attractive, is well educated and has a pleasing personality. She never allows drilling an oil well to cause neglect of her tent home. It is always first.

Mrs. Brown does not mind grease and oil. She can run the rig and at times when it is necessary for her husband to be absent from the well, she is boss of the crew and what she says goes.

Last week soon after the well encountered a pay sand at a depth of approximately 927 feet and was bailing several barrels of oil daily while waiting for a strainer to be shipped. Mrs. Brown would help run the bailer and when it would come up filled with oil she would always be the one to grasp the bottom of the "old" bucket and guided it into the pit. In doing this she always managed to get her arms and hands covered with oil. While she leisurely wiped it off with an old rag she was asked if she did not mind getting oil on her hands. "No I really enjoy getting this stuff on me," said she, "For I am used to it now and you know I really do believe that it is one of the best cosmetics on the market. Doing all this camp work around here my hands would be as hard as a real roughneck's if I did not have crude oil to keep them pliable."

Never Had an Accident.

Another thing about this "roughneck" is that she has never had an accident when working on the rig, which is probably unusual. The only hardships she has had since camping on Hondo creek have been with rattlesnakes and centipedes. During the eleven months she has been there she says about seventeen rattlers and eleven centipedes have been killed. On one occasion she says one of the rattlesnakes came near sinking his fangs into her and if it had not been for a little house cat she had in camp at the time, she probably would have been bitten. The cat warned Mrs. Brown by jumping in between her and the snake just before the snake struck, attracting attention until Mrs. Brown could cry for help.

But what probably is the most startling thing about the well is to hear Mrs. Brown tell of her dreams.

Not long ago, about a month ago perhaps, when Mrs. Brown was working on the rig, they got down several hundred feet after considerable trouble in fishing jobs, etc., and then one night Mrs. Brown had her first dream about the well. She says she dreamed that they were going to strike artesian water during the next two feet. Next morning the rest of the crew laughed at her and even went so far as to poke a little fun at her. But she remained firm in the belief that her dream would come true and told the crew to please drill those next two feet with care.

Then to the great astonishment of all, the predicted artesian water was found when drilling the next two feet. It caused no trouble because the crew had followed Mrs. Brown's suggestion and had taken precautions against water.

Several weeks later, which was about a week or two ago, Mrs. Brown had another dream. This time it was that they were going to strike a rich oil sand when drilling the next several feet. The well was then down some where near 870 feet. The next day Mrs. Brown told the crew about her second dream. Again they laughed but not so much this time. Sure enough, when drilling in the next several feet oil began to show on the pit. The bailer was run after the sand was pierced several inches and the bucket came up filled with clean oil from the depth of about 927 feet.

Mr. Brown who is drilling for the Ina Oil Company, officers of which are O. C. Chapin, Hill Grover, R. J. Boyle and F. A. Brown, spudded in the well about eleven months ago. Since that time he has had considerable trouble with fishing jobs but with the aid of his wife, he says he has been able to reach the expected oil sand. He has a well. The average in wildcatting is said to be about 98 dry holes out of every one hundred drilled. Mr. Brown has one of the successful ones. He got the oil sand right where Mrs. Brown dreamed he would, too.

ANNOUNCES FOR GOVERNOR.

Hon. Joe Burkett.

"This is to announce that I shall be a candidate for Governor, subject to the action of the Democratic primaries in 1924. I had not intended to make known my candidacy before the first of next year, but because of conditions that have arisen in a political way in the past two or three weeks, I deem it advisable to let my intentions be known at this time. At the proper time I shall begin an active campaign and advocate, among other issues, the following:

1. A state reserve banking system with a central state bank for the promotion, primarily, of the farming and livestock interests of our state.
2. A state controlled system of fireproof terminal warehouses at our large railroad centers and seaports, to the end that our staple products may be successfully marketed.
3. A constitutional amendment providing for a reasonable bonus for ex-service men, if the Federal Government fails to provide such bonus.
4. A constitutional amendment abolishing useless offices and placing their work under other offices.
5. The abolition of ad valorem taxes for state purposes, leaving the ad valorem taxes for counties and cities, and letting the state government be maintained by franchise, corporation, license, poll, gross production, severance and other taxes, thus eliminating all contention with reference to unequal and inadequate tax renditions.
6. Water conservation and flood control.
7. Retention by the state of all water power sites.
8. A consistently liberal policy towards industrial enterprises, to the end that Texas may become a manufacturing state as well as a producer of raw materials.
9. A connected system of state highways to be maintained by the state.
10. A more liberal policy toward our public schools, to the end that every child may receive at least a high school education.
11. A closer co-ordination of our institutions of higher learning with each other and with the public school system. Give our grown young men and women ample opportunity to carry their education to the highest pinnacle, but not at the expense of the children who cannot care for themselves.
12. A repeal of the free text book law, with a provision for supplying books to those not able to purchase.
13. An adequate and humane solution for the penitentiary problem.
14. Strict economy in all departments of the state government, consolidating bureaus and commissions wherever necessary, to the end that all may work together and not contrary.
15. A constitutional amendment exempting a reasonable value of the improvements on a homestead from taxation to the end that home ownership may be encouraged.
16. Liberal laws toward our basic industries—farming and stock raising.
17. Institution of civil service examination for all state employees, giving preference to ex-service men wherever possible.
18. A constitutional amendment fixing the legal interest rate at not exceeding 8 percent instead of 10 percent as at present.
19. An adequate revision of our judiciary system in order that cases may be tried speedily and litigants be not compelled to wait an indefinite length of time for an adjudication of their rights.
20. A revision of our primary and selection laws to make them more workable. We must cut our government expenses and thereby reduce our taxes, or else submit to the Socialistic doctrine that the State should own all property and administer the government from the use of same. I had rather have less government and more individual freedom than to submit to Socialism.
21. The faithful and efficient enforcement of all laws, especially those against mobs. Such violence will not be tolerated. Every person shall be secure in his person, papers and effects from all searches and seizures except by due process of law. I do not believe in an invisible government. There is room for but one government and that one open and free, participated in by all the people.

PERSONAL SKETCH.

Born October 19th, 1885, near Lone Grove, Llano County, Texas, in a humble home of two rooms. Parents were farmers. Removed to Mills county in 1889, stopping in Goldthwaite. From there moved to Robert Lee, in Coke county in 1890, and removed from there to Eastland county in 1892. Lived near Curtis and Pioneer in that county until in December, 1899, when removed near Putnam in Callahan county. During all these years and up to 1904 attended the common country schools from three to five months each year, working on the farm the remainder of the time. In 1905 took up the study of law at home, studying at nights and on Sundays. Took a business course at Fort Worth and Tyler in the summer and fall of 1905. Taught a country school at Nolan, in Nolan county, beginning the 29th day of December, 1906, and ending in April 1907. Married Feb. 1, 1907. After school was finished, returned to Putnam and ran a newspaper for some months, having previously learned the printing business; also published a newspaper at Clyde, Callahan County in 1908, until about the middle of November, when I returned to school teaching, having secured the school at Doham in the western part of Eastland county. Taught school there for two terms, and ran for district clerk of Eastland county in 1910, making a twelve weeks campaign on horseback, and was elected. Continued the study of law while teaching school and as district clerk until October, 1912, when I successfully stood the bar examination and was admitted to practice law after seven years study as opportunity offered. Served four years as district clerk and was elected county judge of Eastland county in 1914, serving two years, and was then elected judge of the 42nd judicial district composed of Eastland, Stephens, Callahan, Shackelford and Taylor counties over three very worthy opponents. At the time of my nomination for district judge, I was only thirty years of age, and had not been admitted to the practice of law quite four years as the law requires, but had been admitted, and was practicing to some extent four years and one month at the time of the general election in the fall of 1916. Thus in six years time I rose from second grade country school teacher to district judge of a district composed of five counties and having one of the heaviest dockets of both criminal and civil cases of any court in Texas, having succeeded Hon. Thos. L. Blanton, who had been elected to congress. On account of the continued and rapid increase in business, the 88th district court was created in the summer of 1919, I being transferred to that court, which was composed of Eastland county only, and serving as judge of that court until I resigned in the fall to enter the private practice of law, intending to quit politics. But in the spring of 1920, I was prevailed upon by my friends to make the race for representative from Eastland and Callahan counties, and did so without an opponent. Served through the regular session of the 37th legislature as a member of the House, and was elected Senator of the 28th district at a special election in June, 1921, to take the place of Senator Russel, who had resigned, which place I have held since that time, said district being composed of 33 counties and having a population of more than 300,000 people.

As district judge, it is said that more oil law was made and determined than had ever before been laid down in Texas, the famous Eastland and Stephens county pools, having been discovered in the year of 1917. Some of the cases I tried then have since become leading cases on the subject.

Was married to Miss Fanny Pulig, of Gorman, Texas, on February 1st, 1907. Six children have been born to us, three boys and three girls, five of whom, two boys and three girls are living, the oldest being 15, next July, and the youngest three next July.

The installation of officers at the local lodge of Odd Fellows was postponed from last Saturday night until tonight. The District Deputy Grand Master, L. J. Van Fleet, will be on hand tonight to install them, and every member who possibly can is expected to attend this important meeting.

Note the Chautauqua announcement on the front page of this paper. The Chautauqua is said to be composed of a very high class of entertainers this season, and the people of this community are assured three days of splendid entertainment July 24th, 25th and 26th.

This section has been "enjoying" some exceedingly warm weather and unobstructed sunshine for the past several days. Corn is drying up rapidly, but most of it had already matured a fair crop, and the weather is just what is needed for the cotton crop. It is making rapidly.

THREE ELECTIONS JULY 28TH.

There will be three elections held at the same time on July 28th, each involving three separate and distinct propositions.

The state has ordered an election to determine whether or not the Constitution shall be amended regarding our present road laws. You had better get a copy of that Amendment and read it carefully. After you have done so if you can find where it does not take the limit off of the state's issuing bonds for road purposes and levying taxes please come and tell us about it. We haven't been able to find it ourself, and to our way of thinking this is one of the most vicious changes ever proposed to the state's organic law.

At the same time we are to vote on this proposition, we are to vote on two separate stock-law propositions.

One is to determine whether horses, cattle and such large animals are to be allowed to run at large in the county.

The other refers to sheep, goats, hogs, etc.

The official calls for the last two elections are printed elsewhere in this paper.

It would have been better could these two questions have been submitted to the people by precincts, as then each precinct could determine for itself whether or not it wants the stock law to apply.

But in as much as there is no open range in the county and the call for the election seemed to be spontaneous from the entire county, it was arranged for the entire county. If we are correct in our understanding of the matter, if the election carries any precinct that wants to get out from under the operation of the stock law can call a precinct election and vote it off. And vice versa, if it fails, any precinct that wants it can petition for an election and vote it on.

If this is not true in both respects, then the proposition should be voted down on the principle of being undemocratic and subversive of the free exercise of local self-government.

There is certainly nothing to be gained in the way of free range by voting down the stock law, as there is none to be had.

However, some stockmen, we understand, are opposing it on the ground that it will mean open, unfenced roads and the driving of cattle on such roads will be, therefore, rendered exceedingly difficult. Whether enough importance will be attached to this objection to defeat the measure remains to be seen. But even if that is to be considered a valid objection as to the larger farm animals, it certainly would not apply to the smaller ones—sheep, hogs, etc. And the two propositions are to be voted on separately.

We would be glad to have some of our readers write us their views, pro or con, on these matters.

Let us come and reason together.

Since the above was put in type, the authorities at Austin have discovered that such a botch has been made of the whole proposed Amendment procedure that even if it carried it would be illegal. Therefore, the Amendment election has been called off, and the people of Medina County will have to content themselves by voting only in the stock-law elections.

—[F. F.]—

Next week will be observed as base ball week in Hondo. Three games are scheduled on the local diamond the coming week, the first with the fast Macdona team on Tuesday, the 17th, and a double-header with the Knippa aggregation on Thursday, the 19th. The Hondo boys are anxious to annex all three of these games and your presence as rooters is needed. Nothing adds more to the "pep" of a team than a sympathetic audience. Be at de Montel Park on the dates mentioned and be sure you let the boys know you are there. The locals journeyed over to Sabinal Friday evening for a game with the club of that town, but the result will not be known in time for mention in today's paper.

The protracted meeting at the Baptist church closed Sunday night after a week's duration. Rev. Cole preached some able and strong sermons, the singing, led by the Jackson Bros., was enjoyed by all, and the meeting created considerable interest.

Rev. A. M. Foster and family returned the first of the week from a two week's visit to relatives and friends in North and Central Texas. They had a pleasant trip.

Arthur Jungman came home from Dallas on July 4th and has been spending his summer vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. Jungman, at this place.

August Schmidt and family moved to Del Rio Monday. Mr. Schmidt is section foreman on an S. P. Section west of that city.

MISS LILY SCHWEERS DEAD.

When it became known last Saturday evening, July 7, that Miss Lily Schweers had passed through the portals that lead to the life beyond the grave, many a silent tear wet the cheeks of the people of Hondo. Perhaps the passing of no young person in many a day caused greater sorrow to all our people than did the passing of this young woman.

Born and reared among the people of this immediate section, the untimely visit of the black winged messenger has left a void in the hearts of our people who had known and loved her during her entire, too brief stay on this mundane sphere.

What makes this death unusually sad is the fact that it was so unexpected, and again emphasized the uncertainty of life. A pimple or rather a fever blister developed on her lip—so trivial a matter that no one, not even the deceased herself, attached any importance to it. It became inflamed, blood-poisoning set in, and after one short week of pain she fell asleep, despite all that medical skill and tender nursing could do to stay the hand of the fell destroyer.

Deceased was born near Hondo, August 19, 1903, and had she survived until the twenty-ninth of next month would have celebrated her twentieth anniversary—just a bud of lovely young womanhood. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Schweers, one of the pioneer families of Medina county. She is survived by her mother, three sisters, Mrs. Ernest Bohlen of San Benito, Mrs. Harry Heyen of Dallas, and Miss Irene Schweers of Hondo, and one brother, Alfred Schweers, also of Hondo.

The funeral occurred at three o'clock Monday, afternoon, interment being made in Oakwood Cemetery. Her pastor Rev. A. M. Foster of the Methodist Church being absent, her former pastor, Rev. J. M. Alexander of San Antonio assisted by Rev. Gus Muennink of the German Methodist Church, conducted the services.

Death, always a sad event, is doubly so when its victim is one who stands at the very threshold of life. To the old and feeble it comes as the climax to life's work finished, to the young it comes as a thief in the night to rob them of the joyous anticipations and ambitions incident to youth.

To the grief-stricken family, bowed with grief over the departure of their loved one from the family circle the condolence of our people go out in great measure. But comfort in this, their hour of sorrow, must come to them from a higher than human agency.

Miguel Gauna and Donicio Reyna, two of our citizens of Aztec extraction living in the Yancey section, concluded to reduce the census of Medina county and pumped a good deal of lead at each other Wednesday, but the only damage done was to an inoffensive prickly pear leaf. Guana lay in wait for Donicio with target rifle, and when his adversary hove in sight, opened up on him. Donicio's mount proceeded to dump him in the sand at the second volley. Donicio picked himself up and jerked his pistol out and the battle was on in real earnest. Ten shots were fired and an investigation disclosed the damage was a bullet hole through a prickly pear leaf. Sheriff Bader was notified and took a hand in the affair. Gauna was charged with an assault to murder, and Donicio was charged with converting himself into a preambulating arsenal. Following a hearing before Judge Lamm Gauna gave bond to await the action of the grand jury. Donicio, the pistol toter, was still in jail at noon Friday, having failed to make bond. If poor marksmanship was a felony and the belligerents were to be tried on the charge their freedom would be in jeopardy. In the absence of the county attorney, District Attorney Brucks represented the state in the preliminary hearings.
